Overview

Optimized rack mounting solution for your AIO matrices.

The AioR1 set is the complete kit for mounting your Aio4125 matrices (1U half-width) in a professional 19" rack. Two configurations are available depending on your setup: dual mounting using the two small rack ears to secure two matrices side by side and optimize rack space, or single mounting using the large rack ear to install a single, centered matrix. All necessary hardware is included for immediate and secure installation. This kit ensures a perfect mechanical fit and seamless integration into your patch panels or sound system racks.
